

Foundation Plan

Make the next 12 months specific enough to run every week.

SECTION A

12-Month Target

Do not write a perfect life plan. Name the changes you can measure and the way you want to operate.

What do I want to be different 12 months from now?

Income target

Debt / cash target

Skill / business target

Personal operating target

One-sentence definition of success

SECTION B

Operating Standards

Standards remove the need to negotiate with yourself every week. Keep them small enough to repeat.

STANDARD #1

Standard

Why it matters

Minimum weekly behavior

STANDARD #2

Standard

Why it matters

Minimum weekly behavior

Foundation Plan

Protect the actions that make the plan real.

SECTION C

Weekly Blocks

Choose the blocks you will actually defend. This is not a packed calendar; it is a weekly operating rhythm.

Money / admin

Review spending, bills, and the next financial action.

DAY / TIME

Income-building

Sales, outreach, a client deliverable, or a business system.

DAY / TIME

Learning

Practice a skill that raises your value.

DAY / TIME

Family / personal

People and responsibilities that keep your life stable.

DAY / TIME

Recovery / rest

Rest on purpose so the plan remains sustainable.

DAY / TIME

SECTION D

Commitment

A plan becomes useful when it has a start date and protection from the habits that usually take its place.

My two protected weekly blocks

What I will stop doing to protect them

Start date

Nobody is coming to save you. Let's build.
